Scout Executive Looks At Giveaway

Copy to the Courier:
Board of Supervisors
County of Orange
Santa Ana

Gentlemen:

I am writing to you, both as a concerned tax-paying citizen of this County and Country, and as the Executive Director of one of the largest (as Mr. Clark put it) providers of services in Orange County.

Last Friday, at the meeting of the Board of Supervisors, I watched an unbelievable process, wherein over three million dollars were allocated for "Human Services" from Revenue Sharing Funds.

I commend Chairman Diedrich for his insistence upon each applicant telling the Board how its proposal would be funded in succeeding years. At the same time, I am afraid that in many cases you heard fairy tales about how these "New" organizations will "raise" three million NEW DOLLARS for continuation of these programs each year. This is more money than all the United Funds in the County will raise to distribute to over 80 established organizations and programs in 1976.

Sometimes, in our attempt to solve problems, we create bigger problems, or pass them along to someone else. There is a big difference in financing a 'one-time' need, versus financing once a continuing need - especially if in doing so a new organization has been created.

The real truths about the future plans of many of the well-intentioned organizations and programs which you have funded can probably be summarized as follows:

1. Many will now have staff paid with Government funds, whose time will be spent researching and writing proposals to secure other Government funds. (Editor's Note: This is true in Placentia).

2. Many will apply to the United Funds for continued funding - But most could never pass the close scrutiny that United Funds give to requests of programs it funds. And, we must recognize the great short-fall in money available to the United Funds already.

3. Organization after organization, in response to your constant question about future funding, said they were researching foundation support. Do you realize that most foundations do the same thing you are doing - providing "seed money"? How many years can these programs get new "seed" money? Everyone likes to bring the baby into the world, but who is going to sustain it? (Also, most foundations find their funds more limited now, due to reduced investment income).

4. Unfortunately, programs and organizations which have not previously developed a base of support in the community and proved their value, tend not to face up to that problem until the initial funding has disappeared. Without a broad base of support of many hundreds or thousands of volunteers who will actually give money themselves, they will not survive the second year.

5. It takes "time and money" to raise money! If these "New" programs spend all their time providing the services, then they will not be able to find the new funds. - Yet this is the major criticism of donors - "You are spending all your time raising money instead of providing services."

Let me assure you that I am not using my time now attempting to waste your valuable time without giving some thoughts for your serious consideration.

You may have wondered - Why don't more of the "old-line" organizations (such as ours) develop programs to meet these needs - Why do they not respond to these "New Needs"? Where were their requests for funds? The truth of the matter is, most of the new needs are not new needs at all - they have just been "spotlighted".

A common criticism is that the old-line organizations have not recognized these new needs. The real truth is that in many cases we have led the way in identifying them. If we have been negligent, it is that we have not sold the need to the voluntary giving sector of our country, nor to you, our governmental leaders, nor the fact, that we, if properly funded, could meet many of these "new" needs.

We do not believe in starting new programs without sound plans and reasonable assurance of our ability to continue them. We have the problem of maintaining substantial present programs first. We are in business to "stay", and must maintain our credibility with the thousands of people we already serve and who donate their time and dollars. We cannot "grab" from the "Pork Barrell" of this or any other government funding to make a "Big Splash", and then disappear in the night.

This is not intended to indicate that I believe that government

Lend-A-Hand Receives Contribution

Lend-A-Hand association, a nonprofit group of Placentia volunteers who assist deprived families with donations of furnishings, clothing, household goods and other items, received two gifts over the past week, Mrs. Alfredo (Rosa) Garcia, president of the organization reports.

A gift of $364.14 was donated by Jack and Bonnie Scarpa from their garage sale on the occasion of their moving into a new home. All of the proceeds from the sale were given to the organization.

The Welcome Wagon organization also contributed $150 to Lend A Hand. The social group at the end of each fiscal year, distributes any monies left over in the treasury to some worthy cause, a spokesman explained. A similar check was given to Alpha Center.

Mrs. Garcia said that the monies would be used to assist families in emergency situations not covered by other organizations. The group, when funds are available, assists families who may have no food in the house, have a health crisis or need clothing or shoes so that a child can attend school.

The group is completely volunteer and not subsidized by any outside source. Gifts of furnishings are made from Placentia families and go to Placentia families.

Mrs. Garcia can be reached at 630-4995 in the evenings.

Placentia Lake To Be Park Paradise

A water oriented paradise with a large lake for boating and a smaller inactive one to attract the fish and fishermen, was unveiled Thursday night before member of the Tri-City Park Authority, guradians of the waters and surroundings of Lake Placentia.

Members of the Tri-City Park Authority from Placentia, Brea, Fullerton and Orange County saw a lengthy color slide presentation from architects Courtland Paul/ Arthur Beggs and Associates of Pasadena-Corona Del Mar which brought signs of approval from authority members. The meeting was held at the Placentia City Hall.

Included in the panorama of features was a greatly expanded major lake with a circulating 300 foot long stream. A smaller satellite lake to be stocked with fish would create an island between the two water bodies.

Cost of the project as outlined would run in the neighborhood of $1,095,000 with a first phase costing just over half a million dollars at $502,000.

The major lake edge would be serrated to provide as much contact by the public as possible, allowing users to become more involved in the body of water and seemingly surrounded by it, Architect Courtland Paul explained.

A ten-foot wide bridge, wharf, would project into the larger lake for use by fishermen and would even provide access for handicapped persons confined to wheelchairs. Access to the bridge would be ramped. The major bridge is one of three designed for the park.

Other features which appeared to catch the fancy of the audience Thursday night were such details as a band stand at one end of the 40 acres, an amphitheater with a fire circle and stage, a special picnic area which would accommodate larger groups of 150 to 200, and offer stoves, tables and barbecues.

Also a camping area which would be open to tent camping but not vehicle campers and a commercial restaurant was mentioned as a possibility. A commercial section scheduled will offer boat rentals.

Other developments would include play areas with play equipment and such necessities as roads, rest rooms, lighting and the clearing, grubbing, filling, topsoiling and cleaning of the lake.

Paul described that the lake would be six inches deep at its edge and increase in depth to the center. One area would provide a shore rock bed for fisherman and at the same time pebbles for youngsters to skim across the waters...one of the desired delights of youngsters and a body of water, the architect stated.

Sections of the 40 acres of park would be planted in grass and others would be left in a natural state and some in marsh. Paul recommended that a stand of the orange groves be maintained at the park for the enjoyment of present generations and others to come.

To be cultivated and maintained will be the exceptional eucalyptus trees that surround the park area.

Parking areas would be somewhat hidden and disguised from the general view and was the one item

Kiwanis Schedules Flu Clinic

The Kiwanis Club of Placentia announced today that their annual "Flu Clinic" will be held on October 19, and November 9, from 1 to 5 p.m. at Placentia Fire Station #2, located on Valencia Avenue, just north of Yorba Linda Boulevard.

The vaccine being used this year is a purified vaccine and side effects, if any, will be very mild, the group reports. Due to changes in the flu virus and flu vaccine, yearly flu immunizations are recommended. Those persons who are allergic to eggs, chickens or chicken feathers should check with their doctor before receiving their shot.

The charge will again be only $2 per immunization, with a maximum charge of $10 for a family. Senior citizens 60 or over will be immunized free of charge as a public service of the Kiwanis Club of Placentia, the organization states.

Trucks Won't Be Sold

Sleeping, eating and recreation threatened to come back to Placentia's fire stations last week as city council members under the gavel of Mayor Pro Tem Michael Callahan, voted unanimously in favor of leasing some of the city's large fire equipment to Orange County.

The equipment, including three large pumper trucks will be used by Orange County Fire Service in the event of a final contract between the city and county to provide the city's local fire protection.

The council offered alternatives of selling the equipment outright to the county, voted against that move in favor of the leasing procedure. In progress now are negotiations which would provide Placentia with fire service from the county for a 21 month period.

With the county specifying that a larger more accommodative trailer would be needed in back of Placentia Fire Station I to serve county firemen who sleep and eat during their 24 hour shift, council members have decided to buy the appurtenance rather than approving the county's purchase. In this way, the trailer would in five years become the property of the city.

Mayor Pro Tem Callahan said that he had been assured by Orange County Supervisor Chairman Ralph Diedrich that an aerial truck, part of the county's standard equipment, will be stationed at Placentia Fire Station 2 on Valencia Avenue. The station also will house the county's Paramedics unit which is currently quartered in Yorba Linda.

In turning down the county's offer to buy the 1958, 1964 and 1969 Crown Pumpers and a 1975 Ford 3/4 ton Rescue Truck, the council rejected a bid of $118,761 for equipment the city estimates is worth $180,000.

Other fire equipment the city now owns includes 1952 and 1942 Pumpers, a 1967 Dodge, 1968 Plymouth Sedan and 1973 Ford sedan, complete with equipment, radio and numerous items of small equipment, extra hose, air packs, et cetera, Frank Dunnavant, the city's Director of Finance reported.

During negotiations for the merger of the city's fire fighting services into that of the county, council members have pointed out that leasing equipment to the county for the 21 month period specified in the contract, would then allow the city of Placentia to reestablish its own fire service if it chose to do so after that period of time.

Items in the negotiations so far include buying the trailer at a cost of $25,000; leasing at no cost to the county the three pumpers on which the city must pay $22,000 for modifications to county standards. Also use of the two fire stations for the 21 month period with no recompense to the city.

The price tag now placed on 21 months of county service has been set at $1,110,062, below the present costs of operating the city owned fire department.

A return to the county would mean a return to the 24-hour shift concept after two and a half years of trial of a regular 8-hour day for the city's firemen, which union members of Firefighters Union Local #2147 have fought adamantly.

Grievances Drop At Fire Pow Wow

Members of the Firefighters Union Local #2147, representing Placentia's Fire Department employees, have dropped their grievance appealing the thirty-day suspensions of four fire employees charged with "using city property for personal purposes."

The suspensions, when originally imposed, led to a walk out-lock out of all fire personnel. Orange County Fire Service was brought in to protect the city for the several days local employees failed to report to work.

A union spokesman in a special union-city conference, indicated that the four employees had used poor judgement in removing certain items from the former Placentia City Hall, and while they did not necessarily agree with the discipline imposed, they would drop their grievance, Norman Traub, Placentia Public Safety Officer reported.

The suspensions followed termination of four other fire department employees who were charged with petty theft over the alleged disappearance of items and materials from vacated public buildings. The disposition of these charges is still to be heard in the courts.

Also grievance procedures over the terminations will be turned over to an arbitrator along with an arbitrated decision on the firing of three other fire employees, who were allegedly caught sleeping on the job.

The employees on suspension, who have already lost five days pay, will be further penalized by relinquishing vacation pay to make up the remainder of the month's suspension, Traub said this week.

The union also announced that it has dropped its grievance regarding the method by which the criminal investigation into the removal of the city property from the buildings, was conducted.

On the city side, a grievance against the union for violating their contract during the recent strike, has been abandoned. These two matters were dropped Traub said, because they are expected to be argued within grievances that are still pending.

The union has also agreed to the conditions under which its membership would become employees of the Orange County Fire Service. The union stated that they agree with the city council's position of contracting fire protection from Orange County, now in progress.

Traub said that the conference between union spokesmen and city staff members was at the instigation of Placentia City Administrator Edwin Powell.

Zavala Declares For State Senate Seat

Salvador Zavala, vice president of the Placentia Unified School District Board of Trustees and president of the North Orange County Community College board, said this week that he is declaring his intention of running for the post of California state senator in the 35th district.

Zavala is a well known Democrat and has been active in the party for about 20 years, actively engaging in the campaigns of John F. Kennedy and Senator Alan Cranston among others.

A Placentia resident, Zavala has held various school board posts over the past quarter of a century. He is married to Doris Zavala and he and Mrs. Zavala have six children.

The incumbent in the 35th district is state Senator James Whetmore, Republican, who has announced his intention to run again. He has aiready been challenged by State Assemblyman John Briggs, also Republican.

The primaries in the race will be held in June, 1976 and the general election in November.

Nazarenes Denied Use Of Public Building

In a further action to eliminate any church services from city buildings, the Placentia City Council last week denied the use of the Scout House in Kraemer Park to the Placentia Church of the Nazarene.

The church, which is directly across the street, had been conducting Sunday School classes in the building for a couple of hours each Sunday for over a year, Richard Samp, Director of Recreation and Maintenance Services Department, under whose jurisdiction building use permits are issued, confirmed.

The council recently stopped Catholic masses which were being held in the Chester Whitten Community Center in the La Jolla neighborhood. The services have since been withdrawn from the area.

Public church services, however have been allowed to continue on the public right away at a corner on Santa Fe Street. The latter has been described as freedom of speech and former separation of church and st...

Garage Is A Problem

Copy to the Editor:
TO: The Council and City of Placentia,

I am writing in reference to the widening of Placentia Ave. along the west side of my home. It has been stated that I had requested the city to build me a new single car garage on the east side of my home. This is untrue. The truth is, it was City Engineer Ben Minamide and his Assistant Robert Beardley who proposed the idea to my wife and me. It was they who on April 14, 1975, sent out sketches for the proposed garage constuction to two different building firms for estimates. I have copies of these estimates, one was for $4,153.14 and the other for $3,360.00. These bids also reflect the following participating costs to my property by the city:

1. 4' slump stone wall
2. Depressed curb and driveway apron
3. Concrete Driveway
4. Remove block wall (13L.F.), footing and revar, and dispose
5. Excavate and dispose of landscaping for driveway slab (312S.F.)
6. Equipment req'd for removals and disposal

These participating costs came to $972.00. On May 1, 1975, Mr. Minamide wrote me a letter informing me that the total value of the city's offer to me was $972.00. He further stated, "We feel that this would be the justifiable maximum participation that staff could recommend as a mitigating measure to 'loss of access' to your existing garage."

On June 4, 1975, I wrote City Council a letter explaining my situation, stating that I felt it was unfair that I would have to pay for construction of a garage when it was the city who initiated the widening and by so doing would create a loss of safe acess to my existing two car garage.

At previous meetings with Mr. Minamide and Mr. Beardsley, I mentioned to them that during the rainy season a great deal of rain water floods the entire parkway that the city is planning to remove. When hearing this they proposed building a 4 foot slump stone wall along the west side of my home to protect my home from the splashing of rain water that would be created by passing traffic once the existing parkway is removed.

I was truly disappointed on August 19, 1975 when City Council voted to award me an automatic garage door opener. This will not alleviate the future problems that I will have once the parkway is removed. At this meeting, Councilman De Jesus said that I have been parking illegally in front of my garage. Well that isn't true. I only stop my car long enough for me to either open or close my garage door.

At this same meeting my wife and I were stunned when we heard Councilman Gomez remark that he would not go along with the idea of building a garage for me. I have known Councilman Gomez for many years, so days prior to this meeting I asked him for advice pertaining to the removal of the parkway. He said he couldn't speak for the rest of the council but for us not to worry because he was on our side. I explained how the city wanted us to absorb most of the cost of a new garage (approx. $2,388.00.). He said that if the city did remove the parkway that I should insist that the city pay for a new garage. He said that they had the money and not to let them kid us. One thing for sure, I'll never be able to believe a thing Councilman Gomez says.

One lesson I've learned is, when dealing with city representatives one must tape record all conversations for proof because one can't rely on their word.

PROPOSED PLANS---for the 40-acre Tri-City Park were presented last week by architect Courtland Paul [right]. Tri-City Park Authority members, including Placentia Councilman George De Jesus [left] received a preview of features to be included in the water-oriented facility.

which gave concern to commissioners because of the heavy use of parking facilities in the connecting Tuffree Hill Park. Revised parking plans are expected to be presented at the next meeting of the authority at Brea's City Hall at 7 p.m., October 8.

Enthusiasm over the plans presented were already resulting in some concern by authority members who were envisioning capacity problems. Paul estimated that the park to be used by the three cities, would possibly accommodate 2,000 people at any one time.

The park is located at the northwest corner of Placentia, adjoining Brea and Fullerton.

should fund the private agencies. To the contrary, I believe that the government should spend its tax-generated funds through responsible government controlled and audited programs, to provide for essential welfare, medical, and public safety services. That is why we have given you taxing authority.

Historically, our government has encouraged the development of "Private, Non-Profit, Non-Governmental" locally controlled organizations, by giving preferred tax treatment to the people and businesses who donate to these causes.

Like our historic separation of Church and State, we must maintain a separation of Private and Governmental "Human Services". It is time, however, for the governmental and private agencies to recognize the important role each plays, and work together to solve our serious problems. Neither can do it alone. The voluntary dollar cannot feed and clothe all the needy when so much is taken in taxes for those purposes; and no amount of government "Largesse" in the fields of "Character-Building", etc., can solve the people problems.

Governmental agencies and private agencies both must recognize the need each has for the other - And become cooperative rather than competitive.

We can only spend a dollar once. It's the same dollar - given voluntarily or taken in taxes! I don't even mind the taxes I pay if they are well spent, but I pray there will not be another three million dollars in "seed money" taken from our taxes in 1976 for more "new programs". How wonderful if our taxes were just reduced by three million! Maybe that would leave more for taxpayers to give voluntarily!

Criticism without commitment is worthless. I pledge to you my personal support to help design a program to really serve our citizens. And, although I can only speak for myself as an individual, I believe the thousands of volunteers in our Orange County private agencies will support such a program, too.

Sincerely yours,

Letters To The Editor

Letter To Jack Scarpa

Copy to the Editor
Mr. Jack Scarpa
Herbert Hawkins Realtors
Mr. Scarpa,

I received your short note stating you have a right to your viewpoint. I agree! But, while you're stating your viewpoint, why not throw in a little responsibility, just for the heck of it. By appointing yourself as the unofficial City Hall Reporter, you have a responsibility to the people who read your column. That responsibility is to tell the whole truth and to get your facts straight before you write it. Never have I seen a retraction or correction in your column when you so nonchalantly passed off your "viewpoint" as fact.

It all boils down to your bitterness with the City Council because they wouldn't let you move your business into the new Town Center. And since that time you'll say anything to discredit them, find fault, nit-pick and make sure no words of praise pass your typewriter keys. Don't get me wrong, Mr. and Mrs. Scarpa, I'm not asking you to stop writing your column. In fact I think it's about time someone stepped forward and voiced their opinion. You have a lot to say and I agree about the apathy in our community, the low turn out of voters and many other things you have to say. I enjoyed reading about your bird and your trip in the plane with 500,000 parts all built by the lowest bidder. And believe it or not, City Councilmen and you do have one thing in common. You said the response to your column was heartwarming and that you received letters, call and personal visits which encouraged you. The mayor and councilmen get the same thing. Each faction surrounded by their friends, all patting each other on the back saying what a good job they're doing. So your column does serve a purpose. But...then you start in on City Hall and your bitterness comes out.

What I'm asking for is truth, objectivity when stating the facts, and then, if you want to throw in your viewpoint, fine. But don't pass your viewpoint off as fact, because it doesn't wash. Here's an example. Your column dated July 9, 1975: "Whatever fire protection we are getting is coming from the County of Orange and its costing us plenty. Estimates range from $1000 to $1500 a day. It seems the County will not use any fire equipment except their own; so our fire trucks sit empty and waiting while we pay costs that are mounting for manpower and equipment." Had you checked your facts you would have found that our own fire department runs over $2000 a day. Compare the the yearly cost of the Placentia Fire Department vs the County. The difference is almost $200,000 a year.

Your "viewpoint", that you stated as fact, led the reader to believe the County was costing the taxpayer more money than our own fire department. I repeat, I never saw a correction of your 'viewpoint' in your column. So, how many of your readers still believe their fire protection was costing them more during those few days and will cost them more should the City go with the County for future fire protection? As for the County using their own equipment, did you ever stop to think that like cars, each fire truck may be different? How would you like the County to answer a call at your home or business and not be thoroughly familiar with the truck and equipment they are going to use to put out your fire? I have a feeling you'd have plenty to say if that happened. Along with truth and objectivity, let's add logical reasoning to your column.

So you say to yourself, "Ok, lady, so I made a mistake, I'm only human." So is City Hall. In case you hadn't noticed, those are human beings down there. Yes, I'll admit they make mistakes too. The point is, I also know they try to correct their mistakes, which is more than I can say for you.

In my opinion you owe someone in this town an apology. Two weeks ago you criticized the dedication of the Backs' Memorial Fountain. Again, had you checked before you wrote the article you would have learned that Mrs. Backs herself made her wishes known to the City staff as to who and how the dedication would be. Who are you to find fault? It was her fountain. I find it difficult to comprehend how you could find fault with the dedication particularly since to the best of my knowledge you weren't even there! (fess up, Jack, Bonnie wrote the column that week didn't she) You know Bonnie, if you hadn't written those remarks about the dedication I wouldn't be sitting here now, away from my beloved housework, writing this. This Wednesday would be like every other Wednesday, just me, my bottle of Gelusil and your column. But it just got to the point that the Gelusil was easier to swallow than your "viewpoints."

Now I'd like you to sit back with your bottle (pick your own poison) as I've done every Wednesday, and read my "viewpoints". Next week I'll tell you about what I like to call, "Damned if they do and damned if they don't."

The Ronald Reagan Column

by Ronald Reagan
Copley News Service

Having spent some of my boyhood and, later on, my college years in small towns in which it could be said you never were more than a few blocks from ploughed ground, I am aware of how important that ploughed earth is to our welfare. Indeed, our very existence.

Would you believe that it's possible our three million farmers, as well as countless other landowners, soon may discover they can't plough or cultivate their land or even have a garden patch without getting a federal permit? And I mean a federal permit every time they plough the same piece of land.

Strange things happen as legislation winds its way through the marble halls of government. Sometimes accidental changes in wording make an ordinary bill become a monstrous mutation. Sometimes the accidents are suspect of being accidental on purpose.

Take a minor word change from "shall" to "may" and suddenly a legislator finds his law to make a government agency perform in a certain way has become a permissive measure in which the agency can do or not do what the law says.

Sen. Edmund Muskie authorized the Federal Water Pollution Control Act. It was passed over President Nixon's veto. I doubt the lawmakers, who, like all of us, want clean water in our lakes and rivers, were aware of a slight change in wording until a court decision was handed down explaining what the bill really calls for.

Section 404 directs the Corps of Engineers to issue permits for the discharge of dredged or filled material in navigable waters. Underline that word "navigable." We all know it defines waters that are sizable enough to be used for interstate travel by barge, boat, etc.

In the legislative process, a bill passed out of the Senate undergoes changes when it gets to the House. Then, a conference committee of senators and congressmen iron out the differences in the two versions.

In the case of Muskie's bill, the word "navigable" was dropped. The effect of that deletion is staggering. A federal court has ruled that the law now applies to all waters, even the tiniest trickle, and, therefore, the federal government has a greatly expanded authority over land use.

Now there have been increasing attempts in Washington to pass land planning bills that would give the federal government control over land use. The Department of Agriculture, in analyzing the law, says "dredged material" means any material in excess of a cubic yard.

Now, ploughing one acre of ground to a depth of only one-half inch moves some 50 cubic yards of soil, so therefore, ploughing or cultivating is covered by Muskie's "clean-water" bill.

The opportunity for mischief is enormous. The ecology lobby and the powerful Environmental Protection Agency are pressing for adoption of strict regulations which, even though they deny it is their intention, would still mean a farmer would have to get a permit every time he ploughed. Environmentalists have threatened that if they don't get the strict regulation they'll go to court.

It takes about four months to process a permit. The Corps of Engineers has testified to the Senate Public Works Committee that the expansion of their duties will require an additional 5,000 federal agents in the field investigating farmers and even homeowners for possible violations. The bill to the taxpayers is estimated at another $100 million.

All of this for the dropping of one nine-letter word. Accident? If so, why did the conference in resubmitting the bill to both houses continue to speak of "navigable waters" even though the word "navigable" no longer was in the bill?

Maybe it's only a coincidence, but those of a liberal bent in Congress have been trying since 1970 to enact land-use legislation.

HUGE SNOW CONE---greeted fountain watchers Tuesday as one of the big pools in the mall at the Placentia Civic Center boasted a thick layer of snow. What appeared at first to be soap suds was actually too much chlorine in the already acidic water, causing a thick layer of artificial snow. The pool was drained the next day to prevent damage.

Child Abuse Hot Line Meeting

A public meeting of individuals and organizations interested in the establishment of a 24-hour child abuse hotline will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, September 25 in the Conference Room of Brea Community Hospital, 380 W. Central Ave., Brea.

Purpose of the meeting is to provide information about, and recruit volunteers for, the newly forming organization "For Kids' Sake."

A slide presentation, film and informational pamphlets will illustrate the problem of child abuse, followed by a discussion of the responsibilities of prospective volunteers for the child abuse hotline.

The "For Kids' Sake" child abuse hotline will provide telephone counseling for parents who fear they may loose self-control in dealing with the frustrations of child-rearing.

The goal of the hotline will be to prevent child abuse occurrences and help parents find solutions to their problems.

For further information about the organizational meeting, contact Sherri Heed at 529-0211.

Volunteer leadership from the Cosmopolitan International Clubs, including Placentia, will manage four of the routes in Orange County and four in the Whittier-La Mirada area, a part of the Orange County jurisdiction.

Bikers will recruit sponsors to make a per mile donation to the ADA to further its work of researching diabetes causes, treatments and aiding patients and their families.

Cosmopolitan Club chairmen of the Orange County and Whittier routes and committees include T.J. Rudd and Jerry Tenner, of Placentia.

The chairmen will be assisted in each case by the Club presidents including Nick Cannis of Yorba Linda.

In addition to the satisfaction of assisting in the raising of funds for the conquering of diabetes, riders will have a further inducement of major prizes which include bicycles, sporting goods, athletic tickets, $500 Membership in Cardinal & Gold (courtesy USC Athletic Department), Universal Studio Tours, and a weekend cruise to Catalina on a private yacht.

Riders may sign up for the bike ride on sponsor sheets which are available at most schools and at all the McDonald's restaurants. Riders are to obtain enough sponsors in advance so that each rider will be riding for a minimum of at least 25c per mile. On the day of the ride starting points are at any McDonald's Restaurant and free food will be provided for those covering certain designated distances throughout the day.

For further information call the American Diabetes Association in Tustin, 544-9033 or come by the office at 17842 Irvine Blvd.

Enrollment in the classes is open to the public, as is attendance at all lecture-demonstrations. Information about registration can be obtained at the community college district education center, 1000 N. Lemon St., Fullerton, 870-4990, extension 27; or the Anaheim Adult Education office, 200 N. A key role in planning was played by the Yorba Linda Chamber of Commerce for the Orange County Chamber of Commerce's 13th annual Economic Outlook Conference. The event will be held Thursday, Oct. 16 at the Anaheim Convention Center.

The OC Chamber is cooperating with the U.S. Department of Commerce and the Small Business Administration to sponsor the event.

Speakers include Thomas Murphy, General Motors board chairman; L. William Seidman, member of the President's Council of Economic Advisers; James Pate, assistant secretary of Commerce; Donald Burns, secretary, California Business and Transporation Agency and Ralph Diedrich, chairman, Orange County Board of Supervisors.

Artist Landry Guest Here

"Water-A Challenge" will be the subject for Artist Robert Landry when he is guest lecturer-demonstrator for the Placentia Art Association's Sept. 25 meeting at 7:30 p.m. at the Back's Community Building.

Landry is a native of Washington D.C. where he studied at the Abbott Art School. He is a self-taught watercolorist and has developed an excellence in the handling of transparent washes, glazes and textured effects.

His subject matter is varied and he is expecially adept in painting landscapes, seascapes and still life. He is more interested in expressing a mood than depicting the subject matter itself, he reports.

Landry conducts workshops in California, Arizona and Hawaii. He has received numerous awards and is represented by many Fine Art galleries in California, Texas, Arizona and Oregon.

This program is one of a series co-sponsored by the North Orange County Community College District and the Placentia Art Association and is open to the public at no charge. Registration cards may be signed at the meeting

The Placentia Art Association which is sponsored by the Placentia Round Table and Junior Round Table meets on the fourth Thursday each month. Membership is open to both beginning and professional artists for $7 per year.

Riders To Show Film

"The Proud Breed" is the movie which will be shown at the Yorba Linda Country Riders meeting Wednesday, October 1 at 7:30 p.m. in the multi-purpose room of the Yorba Linda library. This 30 minute movie was shown on television and tells the history of the Arabian Horse. The public is invited.

The Yorba Linda Country Riders is a corral of E.T.I. that has 150 family members and encourages all interested horse people to join.

The Riders had a very sucessful gymkahana horse show, a safety seminar and are now putting in hitching posts thruout the city for the safety of the horsemen.

Planned activities include an overnight ride at Caspers park, a one day ride at Anaheim Hills, another gymkahana show and riding in the Fiesta day parade.

The public is invited to the meetings and anyone requesting membership information may call Sue Lease, 528-3720.

Award To Guest

The Yorba Linda-Placentia Toastmasters Club #3425 held a regular meeting at the Alta Vista Country Club. Mike Lackner presided and was the general evaluator, Tony Shipsi was toastmaster of the evening, and Dave Lewis table topics master.

John Meursinge and Cecil May delivered the prepared after dinner speeches. Bruce Ranzan gave his 'ice-breaker'.

Mo Graham won the best evaluators' trophy and the bone award. Guest Dick Beveridge was voted the table topics award. The counting of the ballots for the best speakers' trophy revealed a three way tie.

Condominiums Go Back To Commission

"It's better. I don't know if it's good enough...but it's better," Placentia Planning commissioner vice chairman Claire Herr, expressed an opinion at the recent meeting of the city's planning commission.

The statement concerned a development by Charles Hiller at the southwest corner of Lakeview and Mariposa Avenues.

The originally 40-unit development on four acres adjacent to half acre estates in Yorba Linda was previously turned down by the commission. The group expressed a preference for a density around 8 units an acre.

The latest revision, expected to be considered by the planning commission Tuesday night, would reduce the development to 32 units and correct a long row of garages at the entry of the site, which some commissioners found offensive.

Your Pharmacist SPEAKS

By John Payne
Owner-Reg. Pharmacist

A new weapon in the war on heart diseases is being tested and appears to offer great promise. A drug has been found which may be able to reduce blood-fat levels and to lower the incidence of non-fatal heart attacks. It is being tested on large groups of test subjects.

Of two thousand men tested, only one non-fatal heart attack per thousand occured in treated subjects; for those not treated, the rate was five attacks per thousand. Other finding indicate that the new drug can also reduce cholesterol levels, offering help to patients with a long history of angina pectoris.

We have a long history of help for people who care about their health. Let us fill your next prescription, please? at LINDA VISTA PHARMACY, our "Quik Chek" family record plan provides an added safeguard for you...at no added cost.

HORSE TALES

by Joan Johnson

Now that school is back in session, I imagine there are many horses around town who are breathing big sighs of relief, knowing that they can spend five days a week just lolling around the old corral.

There are some horseshows coming up that sound pretty good. Riata Riders Corral #40 are having their monthly show at Parnell Park in Whittier on September 27th starting at 3 p.m. Judge is Gary Matlock.

Unless El Rodeo has changed back to their winter schedule, their next show should be on October 4th, starting at 3 p.m. El Rio Corral #4 is having a show at Diamond Bar on October 5th with Toni Oppegard judging.

There is an all English show at the Canoga Park Training Center on October 5th at 8 a.m. Lois Langer will be judging. The California Professional Horsemen's Association is having a show October 4th and 5th with Western classes on Saturday and English on Sunday. This will be held at the Ridge Riders Arena in West Covina.

I'm in complete agreement with Editor Jim Arkison's comments in the September 10th issue of the Star regarding the traffic situation in the vicinity of Imperial, Main, and Yorba Linda Blvd.

If he thinks it's hair raising trying to cross Imperial in a car, he should try it on horseback!! I feel there's a definite need for more "Horse and Pedestrian Crossing" signs in town - especially at points along Imperial, such as Eureka and Bastanchury where the speed limit is 55 MPH.

We pray a lot every time we cross at either of these places. Another hazardous spot is where the El Cajon trail crosses Yorba Linda Blvd. I've spent as long as five minutes at that point, waiting for a safe opportunity to cross.

With no sign and no crosswalk, I don't feel justified to hold up the traffic, so instead I wait.....and wait....and wait.

Our City Council finally approved the installation of six hitching rails around town. They weren't too keen about the plan when it was first presented to the city, but patience and perserverance on the part of Corral #94 members paid off, and we will now be able to tie up at the following locations:

Behind Winchell's Doughnut Shop; behind Stater Bros.; between Tony Frisco's Delicatessen and the Kountry Market; at Tastee Freeze; by the Fish and Chips Restaurant in the Alpha Beta Center; and behind McDonalds. Let's all make use of these tie rails, instead of continuing to tie horses to light poles, fences, etc.

Several people in this city are working very hard to make horses a more acceptable part of the community and we're only hurting ourselves by abusing the privileges that we have been allowed.

Mental Health Board Installs

"The Board's goal is to educate the community about mental health and to help in assessing the mental health needs of the area," explained Kay Jacklin, newly installed chairman of the North County Mental Health Regional Board.

Eve Sproule, Fullerton, vice-chairman and Jean Franke, La Habra, corresponding secretary, were also installed at the meeting.

The volunteer Regional Board is comprised of citizens from Fullerton, La Habra, Brea, Yorba Linda and Placentia, who advise and assist North County Regional Mental Health Services, located at 232 W. Commonwealth, Fullerton.

According to Ms. Jacklin, the Regional Board is "action-oriented". They are working towards the establishment of additional board and care homes in North County and additional mental health services for seniors; needs the Board discovered while surveying 285 local citizens.

In conducting the survey, the Board also informed many civic organizations of available mental health services.

Recently honored by the California Association for Mental Health for her work on the Regional Board was Vivian Jacobson, Fullerton, past-Chairman.

Under Ms. Jacobson's direction, action was initiated which removed questions from the California's driver's license application pertaining to prior mental illness.

The Mental Health Regional Board meets monthly and is actively recruiting new members. If interested, contact Ms. Jacklin, (714) 526-2227 or (213) 694-1011, Ext. 223.

Nominations Open

Chairman Phyllis Stambaugh announced today that nomination forms are available, at the Chamber of Commerce office, for the 12th Annual Citizen of the Year Awards sponsored by the Chamber.

Nominating applications have been mailed to clubs and organizations serving Placentia, however, individuals may also nominate a candidate.

The awards, one female and one male, will be conferred for achievements, leadership and service to the community for the year 1974. The awards are for direct, outstanding service and has no relation to Chamber of Commerce membership. Nominees must either have lived or worked within the city limits of Placentia for, at least, the 12 months preceding the final filing date.

Deadline for filing nominations at the Chamber office is October 15, 1975.

Gas Costs To Rise-Wiggins

"The price of petroleum products will rise," Congressman Charles Wiggins told members of the Placentia Rotary Club Monday night. "The higher costs of these products will encourage conservation and it will stimulate production and together with the money we're pouring into alternate (energy) sources, will in due course achieve a greater degree of energy.

"You are not going to escape them. The price of petroleum products is going to rise," he warned.

Congressman Wiggins, guest speaker at the club's usual Monday night dinner meeting advised the group, "It serves America's interest to try to achieve a greater independence from foreign oil sources.

"We have to stimulate our domestic production. We should do our utmost to rotate and employ domestic oil sources; secondly launch into almost a crash program for developing alternate sources for generating power without dependency on petroleum.

"And thirdly we should do our utmost to conserve. If we do all these things, we will not achieve perfect independence obviously, but we'll go a long way down the road."

On conserving fuel, Wiggins told Rotarians, "Some people believe and I'm one of them, that the best way to do the job is by using the pricing system.... The price of gasoline and petroleum products is going to rise whether government does anything about it or not."

Another major issue Congressman Wiggins touched on in his talk are the problems in the Middle East.

"Our national interest in this Middle East situation is very clouded...In the Middle East we have major powers eyeball to eyeball and the risk of world war is ever present to a much greater degree than it ever was in Vietnam.

"It serves you and me and our families and our national interest to see that the problems are solved amicably if it can be done. But should we give away the store? ....It is a burning issue in Israel.

"Israel would like $2.3 billion in equipment and Egypt would like roughly $750 million...The asking price is roughly 3¼ billion dollars. Is it worth it? Some of the considerations that trouble me is that this is an interim solution.....

"Do you think for a minute that either Jordan or Syria will sell out for one penny less when they make their deal? Everybody is going to get a piece of Uncle Sam.

"I'm also troubled by the precedent we are setting internationally. We are offering our good offices around the globe. Wait 'til the Greeks and Turks get through with us after we make a proposal for Cypress. They're liable to sell us the island.

"I'm very troubled by this precedent. It may be setting a precedent that will be costing us billions down the road. Is peace in the Middle East worth that much? It's pretty touch to put a price tag on peace....I have not made up my mind as to how I'm going to vote as your representative on this issue."

On oil companies: "It will cost almost a trillion dollars to develop our oil resources. I have no problems of letting the oil companies earn enough money to have the resources necessary to plow back into the business to develop oil resources. I only get offended if they don't do that. If they go out and buy Montgomery Wards. I only get offended if they have exorbitant dividends."

On Gun control: "Some people look at the statistical information and have come to the conclusion that guns are being used with ever increasing frequency to commit crimes that cause death and in robberies and assaults. A lot of American citizens are not going to be alive next year because of guns. I am of the opinion that there is a need to do something.

"I think it is time to consider an excise tax on the manufacture of hand guns, to discourage the emotional person from buying a gun."

On illegal aliens: "We should make it a crime to knowingly employ illegal aliens...and I am underlining the word knowingly.. and only after prior warning. I think that's fair. We have to provide an economic disencentive to hire illegals. That is why they come into this country to get jobs.

"I know that many employers are outraged that they are going to suffer criminal penalties. But they are only going to suffer criminal penalties if they knowingly employ an illegal alien after first being warned and after second, being fined. I don't think they should be insulated from the continuation of creating the problem...The problem is so massive."

STATE OF THE SHIP OF STATE--was discussed last week by Congressman Charles Wiggins before members of the Placentia Rotary Club at their dinner meeting at the Alta Vista Country Club. The Congressman was on a busy two day tour of his district. At the right is Ron Snell, president of the local club.

Library Showcase

New Books:

A set of 11 "how to" books have recently arrived which should be of interest to many patrons.

They deal with a wide range of activities and sports including tennis, golf, archery, bicycling, backpacking, camping and motorcycling and each one covers its topic thoroughly.

"Back Packers Digest" for example gives tips on equipment selection-boots, sleepingbags, packs and clothing; tells how to build a fire almost anywhere, how to avoid getting lost and what to do if you do; discusses wildlife you might encounter and lists national forests and other areas open to back packers.

"The Tennis Digest" edited by Ron Laver and Bud Collins covers tennis terminology, playing instruction, tactics and strategy, playing styles and is spiced with anecdotes about current tennis personalities.

Each of the 11 volumes treats its subject comprehensively and they should be helpful to anyone interested in improving his skill in a particular sport or activity.

DINKEL ACKER BIG WINNER AT TRADER JOE'S BLIND TASTING!

In May we held a blind tasting of imported beers and Dinkel Acker was the big winner. As we suspected Dinkel Acker was not exactly a household word. Almost no stores and only a few restaurants were selling it.

We got the exclusive right to sell Dinkel Acker in stores in Southern California. This permitted us to knock down the retail price--Dinkel Acker Malt Liquor GM extra will be only 59c per bottle (old price 65c) or $3.49 per six pack (old price $3.90).

We will also carry Dark and Bock Dinkel Acker beers, which will sell for the same price.

HOW TO SUCCEED AT RETIREMENT with just a little help from Perpetual

Retirement with enough funds to see you through the years ahead is something just about everyone looks forward to. But maybe you never got started on a retirement plan because you work for yourself or for a company that has no plan. Well, now Perpetual Savings has a nice answer to your needs.

If you are self employed you may qualify for annual savings of up to $7500 tax free from now until you retire or attain the age of 70½, under the provisions of the Keogh Act, also known as HR-10.

If you work for a company that has no retirement plan for employees, you may save up to $1500 tax free each year until you retire or attain the age of 70½, under an Individual Retirement Plan.

Both of these plans offer those who qualify an important tax shelter as well as an investment that grows dramatically with interest compounded daily over the years. You enjoy the advantage of a large annual tax-free deduction from earnings during the working years plus the opportunity to pay lower taxes on retirement when gross income is apt to be less. Come to Perpetual for complete details.

FLAG RAISING---Herb Smith stands at base of flagpole after raising Flag at Glenknoll School opening day ceremonies. Occasion marked the school's year long observance of the Bicentennial year.

New Flag At Glenknoll

An American Flag which had flown over the nation's capital on December 26, 1948 was raised at Glenknoll School to open the school year and launch the school's observance of the Bicentennial year with a theme of "Let Heritage Ring."

Herb Smith, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herb Smith who had received the Flag from Congressman Joseph Resnick of New York, raised the Stars and Stripes on the flagpole.

Superintendent John Tynes of the Placentia Unified School District and Yorba Linda Mayor Carolyn Ewing addressed the students. They spoke on the significance of the Bicentennial, telling the students to enjoy it as a very special occasion and welcomed them back to school.

The color guard was provided by the Tig-Cun-Doshei Camp Fire Girls comprised of Kris Hilzer, Valerie Eaton, Laura Ruschman and Linda Johnston.

The impressive ceremony was coordinated by Glenknoll School officials headed by Principal Nick Siokos and the PTA under President Maria Kalafa.

Round Table Opens

The first meeting of the year for the Placentia Round Table will be a Pot Luck Luncheon at 11:30 a.m., Wednesday, October 1 at the Clubhouse, 901 N. Bradford, Placentia, with Mrs. Eugene O'Neal, club president, presiding.

New members will be honored and Mrs. John Steinleitner, Program Vice-President, announced that a demonstration by local paramedics will be featured.

Jim Ellis, Bob Landa and Jerry Shacklett, paramedic crew, will explain their equipment and function as a vital community service. Also included in the program will be a color film about paramedics produced by Jack Webb with the cast of the popular Emergency TV series.

Information about membership in the Round Table is available from Mrs. John Zures, 528-0650.

Bon Voyage For AAUW

"Everyone on board!" says Perrilyn Phillips and Susan Brown, to all the members and guests of the Placentia-Yorba Linda Branch of the American Association of University Women, who will cruise Newport Harbor on October Queen Riverboat.

While the Pavilion Queen is steering its passengers through the lovely sights of Newport Harbor, a buffet dinner and dancing will be in full swing.

This is AAUW's first fundraising event of the year. Proceeds will go to their National Education Foundation, which enables qualified women to continue, or complete their higher education, or engage in special research and projects.

To add to the festivities of the evening, door prizes will be awarded during the cruise, thanks to the generosity of several Orange County merchants.

Of the amount $120 was used to purchase gifts for Christmas for veterans' families for the unit's annual Christmas program. Money was also used for the annual Joplin's Boys Ranch dinner to be held in October.

Mrs. Sue Borbon, president, presented her committee for the coming year. Committee heads include: membership, Mrs. Lois Phillips; veterans affairs, Mrs. Margaret Collier; poppy, Mrs. Gertrude White and education and scholarship, Mrs. Laura Clauson.

Seniors Info

For any Orange County senior citizen with a problem and whose telephone call to Santa Ana will involve toll charges, the new toll-free number for service is 1-800-432-7100.

Seniors who can call Santa Ana without toll charges should continue to use the main Community Referral and Information Service (CRIS) number of (714) 835-4357.

CRIS was recently transferred to County government from the Mental Health Association of Orange County. It has been assigned to the County Administrative Office and is operating as a separate entity similar to the County Department of Consumer Affairs.

CRIS has a data bank of more than 1,750 resource agencies, organizations and individuals to assist seniors.

Plans for serving 2,000 free Thanksgiving dinners and possibly 2,000 more at Christmas time to Orange County senior citizens have been announced by the Second District of the Veterans of Foreign Wars headquartered in Santa Ana.

District spokesman Bill Ward said the program will depend on arranging suitable locations for the events in the county and cities.

Ward said that a survey of the 26 VFW posts in the District has indicated that veterans of World War II are rapidly approaching senior citizen status. World War I veterans have long since been in that category, he noted.

The dinners will be open to all seniors regardless of veteran's status. Any person desiring to assist the VFW with the project is asked to call Ward at 541-8751.

A capital grant to provide six vans to carry low income senior citizens to Project TLC congregate meal centers has been awarded to the Orange County Community Development Council, Inc. (CDC) by the State Department of Transportation.

Six vans will be purchased, operated and maintained by the CDC at six different TLC sites. CDC will also administer all fiscal matters related to the purchase of the vehicles and the payroll of personnel. Seniors will be hired as part time drivers for the vans as soon as they are delivered.

As sponsor of this program, CDC must provide 20% of the capital purchase cost of the vans or approximately $14,000.

This money must be raised before the vans can be purchased. The CDC is accepting donations for this purpose. To make a contribution or for more information, contact Frank Budai at 979-2050.

Women's Volleyball

An evening of Women's Volleyball is being sponsored by the Placentia Recreation Department. The women's volleyball games will be played on Monday evenings from 7 to 9 p.m. at El Dorado High School Gym, beginning September 29. Women's Volleyball is open to women over the age of 18.

Anyone interested in joining the Women's Volleyball games should contact the Recreation Office at 993-8232.

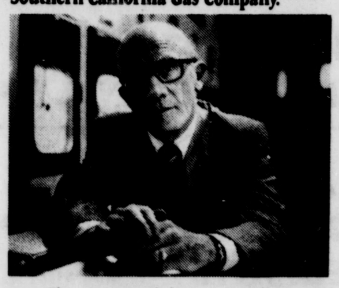
The energy crisis that need not happen.

By Harvey A. Proctor, Chairman, Southern California Gas Company.



This report and the ones to follow will supply you with facts about the shortage of natural gas.

The Southern California Gas Company wants you to have these facts because this problem could affect both your home and your job.

We believe it's a vital part of our service to keep you informed about this difficult situation.

An enormous dependency.

Southern Californians rely on natural gas more than any other similar form of energy.

Natural gas supplies about 55% of our non-transportation energy.

It heats 92% of our homes.

Cooks food for 76% of us.

And it heats water for 95% of us.

But that's only the beginning. Thousands of businesses and shops in this area aren't equipped to use any other fuel.

And many of our industries use natural gas as a raw material for their products.

Demand and supply.

Natural gas is in short supply, and the shortage is rapidly becoming critical.

Although we continue to urge conservation, a huge demand for natural gas remains.

We've already cut back supplying industries that are able to use other fuels.

Reliable estimates of demand and of supplies show that unless we find new sources in the very near future there will be no gas for any of our industrial customers by 1979, possibly even 1978.

And then, if supplies continue to dwindle, we'll have to start cutting off "firm" customers. That includes many of you reading this report.

"Firm" customers are shops, small businesses, office buildings, some hotels, and your homes.

What can be done?

We can solve this problem if all of us work together—consumers, government, labor, and private industry.

We can prevent the worst consequences of the gas shortage.

This is an energy crisis that need not happen!

In future reports, we'll tell you about the progress of our many efforts to deal with the shortage.

We want you to continue to have the facts about how a shortage could affect you.

And about what we're doing to keep the worst effects from ever happening.

The people at the Gas Company hope you'll read these reports and discuss them with your colleagues and family.

For more information on the natural gas shortage, write: Southern California Gas Company, Box 54093, Los Angeles, California 90054

Three New Programs

The Moravian Church is offering three new programs that we hope will benefit the members of the congregation as well as the community.

C.A.P.

The First Program is geared to families needing child care for a few hours in the afternoon each day after school. This will be the most extensive program in service to the community. It will be called "CAP" - Children's Afterschool Program.

The ages are K-6th and the program will operate from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m. with a donation of 50 cents per hour per child. They will have a craft time, outside play, field trips, music and Bible time. All of the programs will be Christ centered.

Due to a limited staff the program will not be able to accommodate more than 18 children at the present time, therefore, early registration is advisable. The program began Monday, September 22nd.

After a one to two month period, the enrollment will be increased to 25. To register call Sue Hunt or the church office.

"MOTHER'S MORNING OUT"

The Second Program will be a mother's morning out babysitting program. It will be for infants through kindergarten for 3 hours 9-12 on Fridays throughout the school year except vacations and holidays.

Depending on the ages attending, there will be various activities such as water coloring, finger paints, Bible stories, outside playtime and snacks.

If anyone is interested in donating material for crafts such as collage scraps (can be anything, plastic, cloth, paper etc) small plastic flower pots, dress up clothes, coffee, oatmeal, orange juice cans, please contact Sue Hunt, 524-2070, Karen Witbro, 528-5275 or Sue Pursche 524-7592.

These items will also be used in the CAP program which will be explained in the next activity. The Mother's Morning Out Program is available to anyone in the community with a donation to the church of $1.25 for the 3 hours.

Call Sue Hunt or Patti Lochovich (528-8707) if you're interested. The program will begin Friday, October 3rd.

CHILDREN'S CHRISTIAN CLUB

The third activity is also for children K-6th. It is the Children's Christian Club. It will be for one hour after school from 3-4 p.m. on Wednesdays. The program will be a concentrated Christ centered activity with Bible stories and songs and prizes for the most points.

Points will be awarded for attendance and memory work and bringing friends. The material used will be similar to that used by the church in V.B.S. The Christian Club is open to any child K-6th in the community.

The first club meeting will be Wednesday, October 1st. There is no cost. Parents will be asked to donate a snack and some craft items. If you want to register your child call the director, Sue Hunt, 524-2070 or Linda Garrett, the Lead Teacher, 524-8278.

Golden Days Of Radio

Members and friends of Temple Beth Tikvah in Fullerton are invited to a four hour show on Saturday, October 4.

Orson Welles' exciting War of the Worlds, featuring the famous people-shaking invasion by Martians will open the evening, followed by Fanny Brice's Baby Snooks.

The Bing Crosby Show will precede a Lux Radio Theater presentation of Al Jolson in The Jazz Singer. Freeman and Gosden's Amos and Andy will be heard along with the great science fiction thriller, X-1 Chain of Command.

Admission will be $7 per couple for adults, $2.50 each for minors and students under the age of 21. Admission prices include refreshments.

COMMENTS FROM CALVARY
by R.W. CUNNINGHAM

WE ARE INDEPENDENT WHAT THIS MEANS
There are several different kinds of Baptist basically similar in doctrine. CALVARY BAPTIST can be identified in the following three ways:
1. CALVARY BAPTIST IS AN INDEPENDENT CHURCH.
This means we recognize no external authority or hierarchy. We own our property, govern our own affairs in a congregational way and are free to choose our own Sunday School material.
2. CALVARY BAPTIST IS A FUNDAMENTAL CHURCH.
We are literalists in the interpretation of Scripture, evangelistic in all of our program, and earnestly contend for the faith without being cantankerous.
3. CALVARY BAPTIST IS A MISSIONARY CHURCH.
We are presently sending monthly support to 12 missionary projects. We send our money directly to our missionaries with nothing being deducted by a denominational office. When we send $50.00 to a missionary, he receives the entire $50.00
We are INDEPENDENT as far as man is concerned, but we recognize our TOTAL DEPENDENCE is upon God.

LutheranCampusProgram

Announcement was made recently by Dr. Warren Beck, Chairman, Lutheran Campus Ministry Committee of Fullerton, of the appointment of Keith A. Mundy as Lutheran Campus Ministry Associate for Orange County.

In this capacity, Mundy's responsibilities will include the development and coordination of Lutheran young adult programs at Fullerton College, Cal State Fullerton and the neighboring congregations; to establish a Lutheran presence on campus; to develop the concept of ministry between the campus and the congregations; and, to broaden the scope of both the campus and the congregation in relation to the mission of the Church.

Mundy is currently working on a MBA at Cal State Fullerton, with emphasis on Multinational Business. He holds a BS in Business Administration from the University of Southern California. His church experiences include Lutheran Campus Council, Lutheran Student Movement National Council Member and Acting Treasurer, as well as developer of the Los Angeles Student Ministry Board.

"Explore Your Freedom" is the 1975-76 theme chosen by Mundy. The young adult of today is generally in a position of great freedom and little responsibility. This freedom can be used to explore the world and what it has to offer. Young adult programs will evolve from the needs and interests of the participants. No matter where interests lie, the Church is involved in some way and has a way that individuals can "plug in."

A monthly young adult worship will be held the first Sunday of every month at 7 p.m. in the Chapman College Chapel, Orange. These meetings will feature special speakers and are open to all young adults, student or non-student, in the Orange County area.

NEW CAMPUS MINISTER---Mr. Keith A. Mundy [right] was recently appointed a Lutheran Campus Ministry Associate for Orange County and will be working with students at California State Univeristy Fullerton and Fullerton College. With him are [left to right] Dr. Warren Beck, Chairman of the Lutheran Campus Ministry Committee of Fullerton; Rev. Erwin G. Walz, Pastor of Redeemer Lutheran Church of Placentia; and Rev. Otto F. Nielsen, Pastor of Messiah Lutheran Church in Yorba Linda.

Church Has Nursery Space

A limited number of openings are available for the fall term at Clara Barton Parent Participation Nursery School. The pre-school is conducted in the classrooms and unique play yard of the Morningside Presbyterian Church at 1201 E. Dorothy Lane in Fullerton.

The school offers a varied program for youngsters from 2 years 9 months to 5 years, and is under the direction of Mrs. Joyce Patrick. Clara Barton, a parent participation nursery school. requires parent education and involvement.

The parents are aided by a special parent education class being conducted at the school by Mrs. Jack Clement. In addition to scheduled participation as a parent teacher, each member selects various jobs throughout the year.

Mrs. Dave Schulz, membership chairman, reports that it is still possible to enroll a child in either the three year old group which meets two mornings a week or in the four year old group meetings three mornings a week. Scholarships are available.

The program will provide a wide variety of experiences and material to aid the child in language and conceptual development. Children will be encouraged to inquire, discover, create and express in a rich multisensory environment. Frequent field trips are planned to enrich the curriculum. A perceptual motor training program will also be offered.

Information about enrollment may be obtained from Mrs. Schulz at 774-9165.

SOPPING WET---Pikes coach John Darcy was the victim of a direct hit in the sponge throwing booth at the recent JAA Carnival. Players on the various teams took delight in dousing their coaches.

Fun On, Off Field

When it came to scrimmaging recently at Tuffree Park, the JAA boys showed off their quarterback passes first with footballs, then with sponges!

Coaches took turns volunteering their faces for targets at the carnival's newest booth this year, the "Sponge Toss." They got sloshed!

This went on all day at the annual fund-raiser where 12 JAA teams scrimmaged and hosted over 5,000 participants.

Parents cheered for their kids and tried their luck at the other 11 game booths each team helped to make.

For kids the easiest part was the shooting gallery, or the lollipop tree, or polka dart sharts, or the cake walk.

But more satisfying to coaches was how most teams were ahead by the end of the day.

The list of coaches and team mothers who worked hard in preparing for this, is exhaustive--with three coaches, two team mothers and 32 players per team--not to mention parents who volunteered to work all day in the snack shack or behind the booths, etc.

Hawks Lose A Close One

by Brian Hilderbrand

El Dorado's Golden Hawks lost their season opener last Friday night as Sunny Hills' Mike McCulloch booted a 30-yard field goal with a little over 2:30 minutes left to play, to win 17-15.

The Lancers got on the board first midway into the first quarter after ED was forced to punt. Sunny Hills took the ball at the 43 yard line and eight plays later Kurt Walsh carried the ball in from the one yard line to put the home team on the board. McCulloch then put the point after through to go ahead, 7-0.

In the second quarter El Dorado scored their first touchdown after seven penalties were called while they had possession of the ball, four of which were called against the Hawks.

The Hawks had the ball at the three yard mark when ED quarterback Todd Peterson handed off to tailback, Jim Haynie who ran in for the TD. Peterson kicked the point after to even the score at 7-7.

El Dorado lost a total 139 yards due to penalties, Sunny Hills lost 126 yards to penalties.

The Lancers scored once more in the first half, shortly before halftime. The tough ED defense stopped Sunny Hills on the Hawks 19 yard line, as the Lancers failed to make a first down. But SH got the ball right back on a fumble as Matt Kern recovered the ball on the 18. It took the Lancers nine plays to get the ball down to the six yard line.

Sunny Hills QB, Tim Berberet, took the ball in for the score on a short run. The extra point was made to break the tie, and put the Lancers ahead, 14-7.

Right before the third quarter ended, El Dorado took the ball at the 45 yard mark on an interception by Todd Peterson.

After a couple of passes caught by Ken Dressel for over 30 yards, and a run by Peterson, Haynie ran a 14-yard pass in for the TD, making the score 14-13, Sunny Hills lead.

El Dorado, after the touchdown, faked a point-after kick and Dressel threw to Dave Villanueva for a two point conversion, giving El Dorado the lead, 15-14.

With only 2:45 left in the game, McCulloch kicked his game-winning field goal from the 20-yard line to take the lead and the game, 17-15.

This game, for the second year in a row, was the season opener matching these two teams, and the second game that was decided by a field goal. Last year's game was won by the Hawks on a field goal by Todd Peterson, 10-7.

Coach Glen Hastings commented, "We played poorly in the first half, but played respectably the second half."

Todd Peterson completed 12 of 21 passes for the Hawks, and Jim Haynie was the leading rusher with 46 yards in 13 carries for a 3.5 yard average. Peterson gained 145 yards passing to Berberets no yards gained passing.

Kurt Walsh led the Lancers with 122 yards in 20 carries for a 6 yard average.

El Dorado gained 1145 yards passing. Sunny Hills gained no yardage passing.

El Dorado meets La Habra Saturday night at Bradford Stadium, game time will be 7:30 p.m. La Habra is coming off a 23-0 romp over Sierra High School.

La Habra has two excellent ball carriers in Mark Rogers and Paul Sorrell. Rogers gained 82 yards in 8 carries for 10.3 yard average. Sorrell gained 71 yards in 12 carries for a 5.9 yard average.

'Good Neighbor' Day

Recently many Yorba Linda and Placentia families enjoyed visitors from Mexico City in an exchange of international friendship all due to the great American sport of football.

The Placentia-Yorba Linda Pop Warner Football League hosted two Mexican teams among the 11 teams visiting Orange County in the game exchange. "Good Neighbor" was the theme of weekend events and boys were paired according to team positions with a local family while relatives stayed in hotels.

Of the 1,200 people who arrived only 75% spoke English and as one mother put it "sign language helped a lot."

A hectic schedule was planned for the players with a Friday evening practice at Yorba Linda Junior High and Saturday games at Esperanza High beginning at 9:30 a.m.

Official opening ceremonies with Mayor Carolyn Ewing of Yorba Linda, Mayor Bob Lyons of Placentia and Assemblyman Bruce Nestande as guests of honor. Dignitaries from Mexico shared in the welcome.

The Matterhorn at Disneyland and skateboards were the biggest items on Sunday and the group toured Knotts Berry Farm on Monday.

The local families who shared their homes with the boys were deeply satisfied with this team exchange. One nine year old boy when asked what he wanted to do as an adult commented "just work".....

Tommy John On Mound

Yesterday (Tuesday) was a big day for a certain Yorba Linda resident and for many people who are interested in his future.

Tommy John, one of the premier left handed pitchers in the major leagues, was scheduled to make his first pitching appearance for 1975.

The scene was not familiar Dodger Stadium where John has taken the mound on many occasions but the team's Rendezvous Park in Mesa, Arizona, home field for the Dodger's entry in the Arizona Instructional League.

John was due to pitch against the California Angels Club. It would be his first start since he suffered an injury to his left elbow on July 17, 1974. That injury sidelined him for the remainder of the '74 season and all of this season.

Her white New Zealand doe rabbit won a blue ribbon for Karen Williams, 19702 Oro Verde Lane, Yorba Linda in the Junior Rabbit competition at the Los Angeles County Fair. The rabbit was entered in the intermediate division.

Rio Vista was the first school in the Placentia Unified School District to enter the ECE program, which stresses parent education programs to foster better communication with children, according to principal Sally Morton.

Barbara Carrasco, an employee of the Placentia district who has lived in Equador, will teach the class.

Tennis Class Instruction

The Fall Schedule of Tennis classes has been set by the Placentia Recreation Department. Classes are available for both youths and adults and will be held at El Dorado High School and Tuffree Park beginning the week of September 29.

Racquets and balls will be furnished if necessary. The fee for the tennis classes is $12 for 6 weeks for Placentia residents.

Troy Gets Tigers By Tail

BY CHARLES ROSPAW

Valencia opened their football season as they closed it last year, with a loss, this time to Troy High School 24-7 improving on a 35-0 loss to the Warriors last year.

This makes the twelth straight loss for the luckless Tigers.

Things looked up for Valencia early in the game, though, as a much improved over last years squad pushed through a harried Warrior defense to move 45 yards in 4 plays, culminating in an 18 yard pass* from QB Mino Rodriguez to Kevin Harbert for six points. Rodriguez made it seven by making the extra point.

Troy came right back, finding the chinks in the front wall of the Tiger squad to tie the score at seven.

After the attack of the Tigers in the first set of downs, the Warrior defense regrouped to hold Valencia. Troy then booted a 26 yard field goal to give the Warrior's a 10-7 lead at the end of the first quarter.

Troy scored once in the second and again in the third to bring the final tally to 24-7.

After the first set of downs, the Tiger offense never seemed to regain any of the momentum of the scoring drive. The Valencia defense also seemed to lose some of it's composure in the face of a larger Warrior's squad.

Valencia will hope to change the trends being set down Saturday when they will travel to Bolsa Grande High School for their second of four preseason games. It will be played at Bolsa Grande High at 8 p.m.

Batons Will Twirl At Tuffree Park

Baton classes are being offered by the Placentia Recreation Department. The Baton classes are for both beginners and intermediates and will be held on Monday afternoons at Tuffree Hill Park. Students must furnish their own batons.

Registration for the Baton classes will be taken at the Recreation Department Office, 117 N. Main Street, Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. For further information, call 993-8232.

The affair is sponsored by the Little Red Wagon Guild of Children's Hospital of Orange County [CHOC]. To register call 528-3066.

Animal Shelter Answers Writer

To The Editor
The Placentia Courier

The following is the reply which we sent to Mr. and Mrs. Leon Goff Placentia; since you published their letter in your paper, you might wish to publish a reply. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to call.

This is in reply to your letter about animal control in general, and dog licensing in particular. We have been trying to answer each letter individually, but find that we are repeating ourselves; therefore, we are taking this way of more promptly and completely answering the questions raised.

1. Increase in fees. The new fee schedule was approved on May 6, 1975, and was effective immediately; existing licenses expired on June 30, 1975, so the notices reminded owners that new licenses which became effective July 1, 1975, would cost more. The State (Section 30804.5 of the Food and Agricultural Code) and the County (Board of Supervisors' Resolution 75-645) both decided to motivate owners to neuter their pets by providing that the license fees for such neutered animals should be no more than 50 per cent of the fees charged for unneutered animals. If the income from licensing was to remain the same, then the only way to make the adustment was to lower the fees for neutered animals and raise those for others. However, as a matter of fact, the cost of animal control had been steadily increasing, while the license fees had not been changed since 1967. Therefore, a combination of these two factors resulted in a doubling of the fees for unaltered animals but no change in the license fees for neutered animals. It was not a 100 per cent increase across the board, as some claimed. Fees charged are the same as for Huntington Beach, Seal Beach, and other neighboring cities.

2. Proof of neutering. Section 4-1-15 states, "Neutered means rendered incapable of reproduction by physical (surgical alteration or the implantation of a device) or other means. To be acceptable, the neutering must be certified to by a licensed veterinarian or must be evidenced by some other means acceptable to the Director." The most acceptable evidence is a certificate from the veterinarian who performed the surgery. The next is a certificate from a veterinarian that, although he did not perform the surgery, he has examined the animal and other evidence and believes that it has been done (male animals will be examined at the Orange County Animal Shelter); a fee for this service is to be expected. The third, and most common, is a note from a licensed veterinarian saying that, in his opinion, the animal in question is incapable of reproduction (this may be based on age, health, or other factors). The last and least acceptable is some evidence such as a bill for surgery or a license from another state or county showing the animal as neutered. If the owner's regular veterinarian is hesitant to prepare such a certificate, there are others who may. It should be emphasized that, although surgical alteration is preferred, other methods or factors may be considered in determining that the animal is incapable of reproduction. For those who cannot afford standard fees, there are several low-cost spay and neuter clinics in Orange County were the fees for female dogs range from $20 to $45, depending upon size; costs for other animals are proportionate.

3. Confining versus neutering. The County fully agrees that the least expensive protection against unwanted breeding is a leash; the next is a fence. However, every shelter operated in connection with animal control has many impounded dogs whos owners thought they were confined; "some child or meter reader apparently left the gate open." Therefore, the County can give the discount only where the control is absolute.

4. Unlicensed dogs. We are aware that there are many unlicensed dogs in Orange County. We attempt to impound unlicensed strays and the owners are required to buy licenses and pay late fees upon redemption. Some of these, and owners of unlicensed dogs discovered at residences are given court citations. We plan soon to have license inspectors going from house to house. Many complaints are received about strays; we respond to these as we can, but there are never enough officers to take care of all calls. Therefore, we have to assign priorities; the incidents of injured animals, animals attacking or harassing children, and livestock interfering with traffic take priority over stray dogs and dead cats, which many callers do not understand, particularly if a truck responding to a higher-priority call passes the address of a previously placed but lower-priority complaint.

5. Unlicensed cats. Many citizens complain about the need for licensing dogs but not cats. This is a matter to which the Board of Supervisors has given serious attention; they have made cat licensing optional (after vaccination against rabies), to provide ready identification of ownership and to allow the Shelter to inform the owner if his cat is brought here. (The 50 per cent fee has been applied to neutered cats which are registered, as it does to dogs.) However, mandatory cat licensing would introduce tremendous problems of enforcement; it is almost impossible for a stranger, as it would be for an animal control officer, to pursue and catch a cat. Traps have been stolen or destroyed by people who object to cat trapping. This problem is being given continuous thought, and more strict measures may be applied later.

6. Low-cost rabies vaccination clinics.

a. State law requires that such a clinic be held at least annually in each area and that the cost not exceed $2 (it may be changed at any time by the State). Through the cooperation of the Southern California Veterinary Medical Association, many volunteer groups, and this office, 33 such clinics were held this year. Unfortunately, the adoption of the new license fees and licensing schedule (6, 12, 18, and 24 months) had yet to be determined, the existing licenses were about to expire, the clinics had to be scheduled in time for license renewal, and printing and addressing and mailing all took time. As a result, some of the clinics were completed before the license renewal notices could be mailed; whether or not clinics already completed should be listed was debated, and it was decided that all citizens should know when and where all clinics were held. Wide publicity was given through newspapers and radio, but some citizens ignored these and waited for the mailed individual notices.

b. The selling of license tags at the clinics was debated over and over; with the time involved in calculating the costs of the many variations offered the long lines already involved, it was decided that this would be impractical. Instead, every owner who did not already have an application was given one, together with the fee schedule, and advised to mail the necessary documents and a check.

7. Delay in getting licenses. Under the previous system, all licenses expired on June 30; that meant that approximately 80,000 notices were sent out at one time and the mail was flooded within the next two weeks by people applying for licenses. Although many extra help clerks were hired, they could still process only about 5,000 applications per week, because so many dog owners failed to send proper amounts or vaccination or neutering certificates; therefore, many dog owners found a delay of three to eight weeks between the mailing of their applications and the receipt of the licenses. In addition, the Auditor required that checks be deposited promptly upon the opening of the envelopes and not held until the correct supplementary documents could be submitted; therefore, some citizens received cancelled checks through their banks before they received their licenses. Under the new system, licenses may be purchased for variable periods (depending upon the expiration date of the rabies vaccination certificate) and will, therefore, expire at different dates throughout the year. Our computer system will send out notices each month to those whose licenses will be expiring during the following month; in this way, we expect the peak loads of July through September to be gradually evened out over the year. We also hope to replace the large number of inexperienced clerks who work for only a few weeks with a smaller number of permanent typist clerks who will have specialized experience in this area.

8. Special problems. Some cities offer reduced rates for senior citizens. This was proposed to the Ad Hoc Committee,* but it was turned down because there was a feeling that there were other families who also had financial problems, and it would be hard to draw the line at who should not be given special consideration. Some citizens inquired if they could "work off" the costs of their licenses; if this were authorized, there would be no end to similar requests about other fees, so that would be completely impractical. Some individuals complained that they were unaware of the provisions of the law; however, the entire ordinance and resolution was printed in the newspaper prior to adoption, and copies are available through the County Clerk and the Orange County Animal Shelter for a fee.

9. Need for increased revenue. Everyone is surely aware of the increased costs of goods and services. In addition, within the past two years, Orange County has made the following improvements relating to animal control:

a. The number of animal control officers has been increased approximately 12 per cent.

b. The hours of officers being on patrol has been expanded to the time 6:30 a.m. to 11 p.m. (In addition, there has been and continues to be one officer covering emergencies anywhere in the County from the end of the night shift to the beginning of the morning shift.)

c. The efficiency of the officers has been improved by the establishment of a 200-hour training program for the new officers and a 50-hour annual refresher program for experienced officers. Senior and Supervising Animal Control Officers have all been trained in the use of capture equipment (tranquilizing guns, darts, and chemicals) by the five instructors on our staff trained by the Parker Company of Atlanta, Georgia.

d. The Shelter is now open seven days per week, and is closed only on legal holidays.

e. Ancient and inadequate dog pens have been replaced by ultramodern facilities; sleeping quarters are all radiant-heated for comfort during cool weather, and a greater degree of protection is provided against diseases and parasites. New radiant-heated cat pens have been provided.

f. A new office has been constructed where the receipt, redemption, and sale of animals is consolidated rather than the three offices previously performing these functions.

g. The parking lot has been expanded to make room for the approximately 12,000 visitors who pass through the Shelter each month, and landscaping has been added around the facility wherever possible to improve the appearance for both visitors and employees.

h. Kennel Attendants have been hired, trained, and uniformed to replace the trustees who formerly provided animal care (and generated many complaints).

i. Cooperation has been extended to various governmental and educational programs which makes it possible for high school students to work at the Shelter and receive credit in school. A new Animal Control Explorer Post was established which has made possible the training of teenage volunteers in animan control activities; they have been very helpful during the low-cost rabies clinics, have helped in the Shelter and office during the summer, and would be invaluable aids in case of fire, flood, or other disaster involving large numbers of animals. Speakers go to all high schools and to other schools and clubs, on request, to talk about responsible animal ownership.

j. As mentioned before, the number and location of low-cost rabies vaccination clinics has been increased, and the dates spread out during more months of the year. It has been made possible for persons to buy licenses for variable periods which relate to the validity of the rabies vaccination certificates and to the owners' needs; it has also been made possible for a dog license to be transferred to a new owner. Licensing is now spread throughout the year, which should reduce the peak loads and the delays in getting license applications processed. Lower fees have been offered for owners who dogs or cats are incapable of reproduction.

k. A four-wheel-drive, balloon-tired vehicle has been acquired to facilitate better patrol of County beaches.

l. An x-ray machine has been acquired and other facilities are being improved to give injured and ill pets the best veterinary care practical while they are impounded.

m. Key personnel participate in T.V., radio, newspaper, and other interviews, give speeches, write articles, and in other ways attempt to motivate and inform animal owners of the Orange County about responsible animal ownership.

I trust that this somewhat lengthy letter has answered your questions; if you have more, however, please feel free to call me at 532-7931, or my Administrative Assistant, Bob Kish, at 532-7942. Thank you for taking an interest in your government.

Sincerely,
W.H. Dieterich, DVM
Director

from herbie's corner

By Jack Scarpa

The garage sale was a success (Lend-A Hand made $364), with only a minor quarrel between a couple of over-eager buyers, the Mayor's wife continues her attack upon us and this is a sad day for me; this is the final Herbie's Corner column.

My decision to discontinue the column was made some weeks ago, based solely on business reasons. Our advertising dollars will be all directed toward heavy, direct advertising in order to meet the challenges of our competition and more effectively serve our clients.

The recent attacks upon me from the Mayor's house put me in a quandry for awhile. Many people may think I am quitting because of those attacks--nothing could be further from the truth. I even considered running the column another month or so to avoid such a belief from becoming widespread. Then I remembered what Socrates said, "The mature man does not allow circumstances to control him." I decided to end the column as scheduled.

Emotionally, I don't want to give it up, but the column did what it was meant to do, in a far different way than I could have foreseen over a year ago. It seemed to me then that to share my viewpoints with you would be a kind of friendly thing to do and terrific advertising for the firm. Who would have ever dreamed that the honest viewpoint of one ordinary guy could have caused such a turmoil in City Hall circles?

It was always the philosophy behind this column to never attack an individual or his family, but to comment on his actions when he or she acted in an official capacity. I recognize the universal brotherhood of us all, and the human weaknesses that each of us suffer from to one degree or another.

It is a personal disappointment that the Mayor's wife, and I assume others, have read so much into this column that is not there and never was. But I shall remember with great warmth you beautiful people who stopped me on the street and called and wrote to say you enjoyed the column. It is like telling a parent he has got the ideal kid.

Those of you who have read this column so faithfully, week after week, are as close to my thoughts as my own family. You have read viewpoints that a guy usually discusses with his family and maybe a close friend or two. You have honored me with your attention.

Thank you all, and as Tiny Tim would say, "God Bless You, everyone!", and that includes the Mayor's wife.

Welcome

St. Joseph's Helps Family

A bank account for the collection of funds to assist in resettling the Nguyen Bot Dinh family from Vietnam, was opened last week at the Valencia Bank on Chapman Avenue in Placentia.

The family is being sponsored by St. Joseph's Catholic Church, under the direction of Reverend George Breslin.

The Nguyen family (pronounced Win) first arrived in the United States in June. They and their three children have been living in tents, huts and old buildings since their arrival, the church reports. They were among the 18,000 refugees still in Camp Pendleton awaiting American sponsors.

The Nguyen family includes the father, a French teacher, Professor of Law and a Judge in Vietnam; the mother, a dressmaker, the oldest daughter, 23, is a nurse and a son, 20 and daughter, 11 are students.

The church also is seeking a house or apartment, furnishings, transportation, a job and donations for the Nguyens. Donations to go into the bank account can be made to St. Joseph's Resettlement, in care of Valencia Bank, P.O. Box 609, Placentia, 92670.

Also assisting with the project is Rev. George Conboy, retired pastor of St. Joseph's and Mrs. Joan Le Grand, secretary-treasurer of the finance committee for St. Joseph's Resettlement Committee.
